PRENATAL/PRECONCEPTION
NUTRITION

P2i Baby™ A Revolution in Prenatal & Preconception Care

Kirkman® formulated our P2i Baby™ line to offer prospective parents optimal nutritional care during the preconception and prenatal period. More and more scientific studies are indicating that good nutritional profiles of the parents-to-be have a big role in promoting the good health of their offspring.

But these supplements are just part of a broad, ambitious program that seeks to revolutionize pediatric and prenatal health care: the Preconception to Infancy (P2i™) program.

Over the past two decades, the rate of children born with chronic health conditions has doubled. One out of four children in the U.S. now has a special health need. Studies indicate that nutritional and lifestyle preconception and prenatal care are important in reversing this trend.

Sponsored by the non-profit think tank, the Forum, the P2i™ program has the primary objectives of ensuring healthy pregnancies and reducing the chronic childhood health problems that are on the rise across the globe.

The program involves testing laboratories, a virtual conference center and a vast data collection effort. A P2i™ “center of excellence” will be launched in 2017 in Atlanta, Ga. This facility will focus on exposomic research, with the goal of improving pregnancy outcomes. The program also includes a faculty of clinicians and researchers who will guide research and create a training program for P2i™ certified physicians and researchers.

Kirkman® was chosen by the Forum to be its supplier of nutraceutical products based on stringent criteria, including a standard for purity testing, that includes testing for more than 950 environmental contaminants that are potentially harmful to human health.

The P2i Baby™ supplement line is based on the work of P2i™ faculty member, pediatrician David Berger. Dr. Berger’s practice of addressing nutritional issues and minimizing toxicity levels in patients has resulted in extraordinarily low numbers of complications and preterm births in his clinic.

Dr. Berger’s standard practice involves teaching prospective parents to avoid BPA (a chemical used in many plastic products); testing for heavy metals in the prospective mother’s blood; thyroid testing and nutritional supplementation prior to conception (rather than just during pregnancy).

Dr. Berger worked with Kirkman® to develop Kirkman’s P2i Baby™ line of nutritional supplements to be particularly efficacious for preconception and prenatal care.
